All Consumers lifting coal by road

Sub: Covering of trucks loaded with coal by Tarpaulin.

Dear Sir

In order to prevent environmental pollution with coal dust, trucks loaded with coal before leaving mine premises should be properly covered with tarpaulin duly tightened at all corners so that no coal dust spreads and pollutes the environment when the trucks are moving on State / National Highways.

The above directives are in compliance of laid down norms and directives of Ministry of Environment & Forest which needs to be strictly adhered by all concerned.

It may be noted that lifting of coal by such consumers and their transporters who do not comply the above directives may not be allowed to lift coal from the mine premises thereafter. In such eventuality the concerned consumers and transporters will themselves be responsible for failure to lift the allotted coal within the validity period.

We solicit co-operation of all consumers and transporters in ensuring compliance of above directives so as to keep the environment clean from coal dust and pollution.

Yours faithfully

(P. Darbari)
